

Louisiana Creole Research Association (LA Creole) in partnership with Xavier University of Louisiana proudly presents:

Picturing Creole New Orleans

The Photography of Arthur P. Bedou

(October 25, 2019 through February 15, 2020)

“ We have an acknowledged photographic heritage here in New Orleans. There is Mr. Arthur Bedou. He took everyone’s ‘baby photograph’. He documented the Creole community, New Orleans people of color. It was a big thing to have a Bedou portrait. It meant that you were a person of means. You had contracted a professional.

That photo would be proudly displayed on the mantelpiece. ”
